

The box that puts your wellness products in the hands of spa owners, directors and influencers

How It Works

WellSpa 360 will deliver a curated box of spa and wellness products to 30 leading spa owners, spa directors and wellness influencers. The recipient list has been carefully curated by WellSpa 360, so products are going only to decision makers who have already expressed interest in receiving the box. They have also stated that they are open to placing an order for the items they like.

The Well Beauty Box will contain samples and full-size products from suppliers like yourself, allowing you to easily place your brand in the hands of the decision makers who purchase spa wellness products and have a large influence. Products will follow specific guidelines for size and number.

What's Included

Your product is delivered directly to spa owners, spa directors and wellness influencers in a curated, editorial display. Your company logo and product description are listed on the sample box insert card.

A minimum of two influencers share the contents of the box on social media.

A listing in a full-page section in WellSpa 360 print magazine devoted to the contents of the box.
